

Lesson 3- Thursday 25th February.

Do you need to hear the story so far?

Today, you will continue your diary entry by writing about Plot Points 2 and 3:

Plot Point 2

She found the house the crying was coming from. The boy didn't want his hair shampooed, and she collected one single tear from him.

Plot Point 3

The Tear Thief left, and sat on top of lamppost, listening. Next, she heard the screaming and sobbing coming from Number 25. The Tear Thief collected many tears, until the girl fell asleep.

Plot Point 2

She found the house the crying was coming from. The boy didn't want his hair shampooed, and she collected one single tear from him.

Continue to write your diary in first person- as if you are the Tear Thief! You will write at least 2 sentences for this Plot Point, but remember you can write more to challenge yourself.

Your first sentence should be about finding the house with the boy in the bath, we will write about what we can 🧐 here.
The next sentence should be about catching the tear, we will write about how we ❤️ feel.

Deepen the moment- you might add a sentence about what you can 👃 smell in the bathroom?

Plot Point 3

The Tear Thief left, and sat on top of lamppost, listening. Next, she heard the screaming and sobbing coming from Number 25. The Tear Thief collected many tears, until the girl fell asleep.

Continue to write your diary in first person- as if you are the Tear Thief! You will write at least 2 sentences for this plot point, but remember you can write more to challenge yourself.

Your first sentence will be about 👂 hearing the sound of the girl crying in house Number 25.

Your next sentence will be about 🧐 seeing the girls tears and catching them. What did those tears look like? Were they red and full of rage?

Deepen the moment- you might add your own simile 🍷 about the tears scattering.
